

Adjunct Position in Development Studies (Summer Term)

The Asian University for Women is a unique liberal arts institution located in the port city of Chittagong, Bangladesh, and includes an international faculty and students from 16 Asian countries. A majority of the students are the first in their family to enter university. We are dedicated to teaching excellence in a liberal arts setting, with a strong commitment to research and scholarly engagement.

AUW seeks applications for adjunct positions in the Development Studies to teach summer courses during our second summer semester (June 26 - August 7).

We seek adjuncts who can teach Introductory Core courses in the Development Studies. The summer courses will be taught 4 days a week for 150min per day. We seek candidates with demonstrated teaching experience, preferably in a liberal arts and in multi-ethnic and multi-cultural and inter-disciplinary settings.

Application guidelines:

Please submit cover letter, CV, the names of three references, a teaching statement and research statement as PDF files to Ms. Tasneem Abedin, Director of Human Resources & Services, Asian University for Women (hrd@auw.edu.bd).

Clearly write in bold the position to which you are applying. Review of applications will begin immediately, and will continue until the position is filled.
